WHAT IS Skillsme

Skillsme is an open platform that allows developers show their capabilities through tests and their portfolios, let others see their value by unveiling their position among other developers, and help the industry to target the right ones on their needs.

Currently, Skillsme is working closely with University of Auckland. With some of the largest IT recruitment agencies in Auckland supporting us, Skillsme is ready to become the benchmark for IT talent industry.

Our mission is to create the employment environment that is fair for every developer, and bring another dimension – their skills compare with others – into consideration to help the more valuable developers standing out.
